

BERNSTORFF AND LANSING TO CONFER

Secretary of State Sets
Today as Date for Meeting With Ambassador

TO GIVE GERMAN VIEW

Count Will State That Reply Was Intended to Pave Way for Negotiations

PLACE EMPHASIS ON WARNING

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will present to Secretary Lansing tomorrow the view that Germany's reply to the American note on submarine warfare was intended to pave the way for negotiations on the part of the United States with Great Britain as well as Germany to adjust questions that have arisen over contraband and submarines as affecting the rights of neutrals.

Bernstorff Anxious For Meeting.
The German ambassador for several days has been anxious to see Secretary Lansing, but the latter expressed a preference not to discuss the German reply until he had examined it carefully. Today Mr. Lansing met the ambassador casually at a club and set tomorrow as the date for the conference.

Count Von Bernstorff is confident that his government emphasized in the last note its willingness to work "hand in hand" with the American government for the establishment of the freedom of the seas with the express purpose of entering into negotiations now upon the entire question of the maritime warfare. He sent the suggestion through Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard that the note should contain such an intimation. Having followed his suggestions, the ambassador is sure his government will accept a tender of good offices for the mediation of the dispute. This would involve an acceptance by Great Britain of the services of the United States as mediator to bring a termination of the question at issue.

Assurances Are Necessary.
Officials of the American government in the last few days have heard the reports concerning possible mediation of the questions, but have always indicated that negotiations along such lines could be begun only if there were assurances that in the meantime German submarine commanders would be guided by the principles for which the United States is contending—that Americans on belligerent ships which are unarmed and do not resist capture be not endangered. In official German quarters here, however, emphasis is placed on the fact that Germany in the last month has not torpedoed even enemy ships without warning and that this practice very probably will be continued. In support of this confidence German officials drew attention of the statement given out by the Overseas Agency yesterday.

It recited the number of British, Russian, French and Belgian ships sunk during the war and added this comment: "The loss of human life was remarkably small, the submarines using every precaution and giving ample warning and time for crews to leave their ships, if no resistance were attempted."

Would Comply With Principles.
Officials here who read the statement admitted that if this practice were continued the principles for which the United States has asked assurance in its note of June 9th, would be complied with to a large extent.

While temporary abandonment of the practice of attacking either American or belligerent vessels without warning has consoled the lessened tension in Washington, the treatment which the Lusitania case in its note is causing much concern even in German quarters. It is not believed the German ambassador will discuss this phase with Secretary Lansing tomorrow but he is said to believe that his government would not be opposed to further negotiations over the sinking of the Lusitania.

GOV. WHITMAN AND DISTRICT ATTORNEY DISCUSS BECKER CASE

ALBANY, N. Y., July 15.—The case of Charles Becker, former New York police lieutenant condemned to die in the electric chair for the murder of gambler Herman Rosenthal, was discussed today by Governor Whitman and District Attorney Perkins.

"The talk was entirely informal," the governor said, "and Mr. Perkins had nothing new to present. Mr. Perkins did deny a report that there was any irregularity about obtaining an affidavit from James Marshall, one of the witnesses against Becker on his second trial. That's really the only news of the case he brought and that was negative news."

SOUTH WALES MINERS QUIT DESPITE URGING

ALL MINES EXCEPT TWO SMALL
COLLIERIES ARE IDLE

Delegates of Workers Will Meet the President of Board of Trade Today to Discuss the Situation—General
Business on Cardiff Coal Exchange
Closes.

London, July 15.—With the exception of two small collieries, in the Rhondda district, employing about eight hundred men, all the coal mines in south Wales in which comes the coal for the navy were idle today, and the miners, despite the action of the government in bringing the industry under the munitions of war act and the entreaties of the responsible labor leaders and their own executive council, decide by a vote of 180 to 113 not to accept work day by day until an agreement could be concluded.

To Meet Runciman.
The delegates voting for the strike represented 88,950 men, and those against the strike 41,500. Thus, although opinion is divided, the extremists are in the large majority. The conference, however, agreed to meet the president of the board of trade, Walter Runciman tomorrow to discuss the situation.

General business on the Cardiff coal exchange has ceased, owing to the admiralty of all available coal supplies while shipping and the railways also had little to do today. There is a general impression, however, that the strike will not last long, but that the men, after a short holiday, perhaps over the week-end, will return to work.

Leaders Oppose Strike.
All the responsible labor leaders of the country are opposed to the strike and while it is hard to see how the government can enforce the penalties of the munitions act, it is believed the men will be influenced by the fact that they are opposing an act which was passed for the safety of the country. The strike has been forced by the men of the Aberdare Valley, who are strong syndicalists, and have declared that the present was a good time to force the government to take over the mines. This policy has been advocated by the independent labor party which is more extreme than the regular labor party and one of the leaders of which is J. K. Hardy, whose parliamentary constituency includes the Aberdare Valley.

BODY OF ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY IS LAID AWAY IN A MAUSOLEUM

Funeral is Said to be Largest ever
Held in Chicago—Many High
Church Dignitaries in Attendance.

Chicago, July 15.—The body of the late Archbishop James Edward Quigley was laid away in a mausoleum at Mount Carmel cemetery this afternoon. The funeral at the Holy Name Cathedral is said to have been the largest in point of members who attended or who stood outside after the church had been filled with ticket holders, ever held in this city, and it was remarkable also for the number of high church dignitaries in attendance. These included Archbishop John Bonzano, papal delegate, and Cardinal Gibbons. The funeral was the climax of three days of prayer for the repose of the soul of the dead prelate. The first ceremonial of the day was the procession of the high churchmen and one thousand priests from the parish house to the cathedral. Thousands of persons packed the streets leading to the church and occasioned a delay of half an hour in starting the funeral services. Archbishop Bonzano conducted mass and Archbishop Hanna, of San Francisco, who as a boy was a playmate of the dead prelate in the streets of Rochester, N. Y., preached the funeral sermon.

BEGINS DEFINITE OUTLINE.

Cornish, N. H., July 15.—With additional memoranda from Secretary Lansing before him, President Wilson today began to outline definitely the position he believes the United States must assume as a result of the last note from Germany on submarine warfare. Just how drastic this position would be could not be learned here.

EXPECT NEXT BATTLE

AT TORREON
El Paso, Tex., July 15.—Partisans of both Villa and Carranza believe that the next battle of any importance will be at Torreon. Villa is concentrating his forces there and within the past few days he has received from the United States several hundred thousand rounds of ammunition.

VALDEZ SUFFERS BIG LOSS.

Valdez, Alaska, July 15.—Fire today destroyed the business section of Valdez. The loss was $500,000. United States troops from Lisicum aided in fighting the flames. Dynamite was used to check the fire. No rain had fallen for weeks and the wood of the buildings, was as dry as tinder.

JURY FREES INDIAN OF MURDER CHARGE

TSE-NE-GAT IS FOUND NOT GUILTY OF KILLING MEXICAN

Attempted Arrest of Plute Almost
Leads to Indian Uprising—General
Scott Persuades Fugitive to Surrender.

Denver, July 15.—Tse-Ne-Gat, Plute Indian, was found not guilty of a murder charge by a jury in the United States district court late today. Tse-Ne-Gat had been accused of murdering Juan Chacon, a Mexican sheep herder in southwestern Colorado.

The jury was out four hours, but its members said that half that time was consumed in discussing lunch.

Suffering With Tuberculosis.
Tse-Ne-Gat, according to physicians at a local hospital, will not enjoy his freedom long. They pronounced him seriously affected with tuberculosis of the lungs. The trial was the culmination of a series of events which attracted wide attention last February. United States Marshal Nebeker of Utah, was charged with the duty of arresting Tse-Ne-Gat, but encountering resistance from the young Plute and the latter's father, Old Polk, sent for a posse of deputy marshals. Other Indians joined the Tse-Ne-Gat party and retreated with him into the hills of southern Utah. The marshals pursued them through canyons choked with deep snow and in zero weather skirmished with them on several occasions.

Several Killed in Fight.
One deputy and several Indians were killed in the fight and word went out that Utes and Plutes alike were preparing an old fashion Indian uprising. The department of the interior sent a special agent to investigate the need of troops. And General Scott, chief of the staff of the army, started from Washington to try his powers of persuasion on the red men. General Scott drove through blizzards 260 miles in a buckboard, went unarmed and practically unaccompanied into the Indian camp and persuaded them to surrender. He claimed after returning to civilization that the only promise he had given the Indians was that Tse-Ne-Gat would be given a fair trial. He said also that the Indians had resisted the march because they feared the youth would be turned over to a vigilance committee.

Considerable Interest in Trial.
There was considerable interest in the trial which lasted ten days. The government's case was circumstantial and the defense attorneys exacted several bits of conflicting testimony from the prosecution's witnesses.

PREPARING NOTE URGING EARLY SETTLEMENT FOR MEAT CARGOES

Representatives of Packers Conclude Conferences with Special Agent of State Department.

Washington, July 15.—In response to the appeal of American packers officials of the state department are preparing a note to Great Britain urging early settlement for, or the release of 31 cargoes of meat products consigned to neutral countries, which have been held up by the British government. Representatives of the packers concluded conferences today with Chandler Anderson, special counselor of the department, who has the subject in hand. Secretary Lansing will review the matter before the representations are forwarded to London.

The packers submitted a memorandum today setting forth their case and outlining the long series of negotiations which they have carried on with British authorities in a vain endeavor to reach a satisfactory adjustment regarding five cargoes valued at $4,000,000 seized before the British order-in-council against commerce with Germany was known to the shippers. The final demand was that the packers guarantee Great Britain against claims arising out of the detention of ships and guarantee also against claims of neutral buyers who bought and paid for products seized.

KNOWS NOTHING OF RESIGNATION

Cornish, N. H., July 15.—Reports that George T. Marrye, American ambassador at Petrograd had submitted his resignation were called to the attention of President Wilson today and later it was stated authoritatively at the summer white house that if Mr. Marrye had resigned the president did not know it. Further than making this statement the president would not comment on the question.

NAMES THREE MEMBERS OF WATERWAY COMMISSION

Chicago, July 15.—Three members of the Illinois waterways commission were named by Governor Dunne before his departure for the Panama Pacific fair. They are Samuel Alschuler, Aurora; Edward J. Kelley, engineer for the sanitary board, Chicago, and Samuel J. Drew Joliet. The remaining two members of the commission will be named on the return of the governor from the west.

War News Summarized

The Germans are coming down from the north with their eyes still fixed on Warsaw, for the possession of which they have been reaching forward from every side from the beginning of the war. The occupation of Przasnysz, 50 miles from the Polish capital, reported in the Berlin official statement, is the first important step in the new advance. For this strongly fortified town the Germans have been contending since February; it was once before in their hands and has been the scene of many fierce encounters.

From Kolony, on the Windau river in Courland, far up on the Baltic, southward to Przasnysz, the Germans and Russians are at grips at various points, with Berlin claiming success everywhere for the German soldiers. The Austrians and Russians have again come in contact on the Dniester river in Galicia, where a successful operation for the Austrians is recorded by Vienna.

The allies on the Gallipoli peninsula, says General Sir Ian Hamilton, their commander, have taken, after vicious fighting, two strongly held Turkish lines defending the Dardanelles and maintained them despite the counter-attacks of the Turks.

In the western war theater the opposing sides seem to be playing a waiting game.

For the moment, according to the latest advices, hard fighting in the Argonne region has slackened and except for a battle with bombs between the Germans and French near Mari Theresa and the repulse of German attacks against Haute Chevauchee and Bourrelles, artillery actions alone have taken place.

The fighting in the Italian war theater continues, according to Vienna, about the same as for the past four days.

As a precautionary measure the government has taken all the reserve supplies of coal. The labor leaders are opposed to the strike and the president of the board of trade is to resume negotiations with the miners which were recently broken off. Some of the miners have agreed to return to work today.

The Marquis of Crewe, lord president of the council, has made the announcement in the house of lords that the British government hopes very shortly to limit the export of cotton to neutral countries to the precise amount of their actual needs. He intimated that cotton would not be declared contraband for the present at least.

LOCAL ELEVATORS OFFERED $1.05 FOR WHEAT THURSDAY

Little Grain Now Being Threshed
Will Grade No. 2—J. P. Correa
Has Grain From Seventy Five Acres in Stack.

J. P. Correa is one of the fortunate farmers who have been able to take care of his wheat crop. He has a field of seventy-five acres on his farm in Scott county and the work of stacking it has already been completed. The men on the farm took advantage of every bit of good weather in cutting the crop and followed the same plan in stacking as they decided early that it would be better to stack this year than to wait for a machine. Anyhow, Mr. Correa believes that the prices are apt to be more satisfactory when the grain is threshed from the stack than would be the case in doing this work from the shock.

The advance in the wheat market on Wednesday gave a natural impetus to the price offered at Morgan county elevators and Thursday the elevator managers were offering $1.05 for wheat if it would grade No. 2. As a matter of fact, though, it is not likely that much wheat which is threshed out any time soon will grade No. 2, as there has been so much rain and even from well capped shocks the wheat is somewhat wet. One farmer who has threshed his wheat at $1 was docked 2c at the elevator because the wheat was wet and did not grade No. 2. The market reports indicated yesterday that out of the total of the big shipments of wheat received in the Chicago market not one single car graded No. 2. A considerable portion grade No. 3 and the rest No. 4.

THOUSANDS VIEW LIBERTY BELL

Portland, Ore., July 15.—More than 200,000 people paid homage to the Liberty Bell during its trip through Oregon today. Starting at Vancouver, Wash., where 3,000 people turned out shortly after 5 a. m. to see the famous relic, and ending at Roseburg, where darkness overtook the train after 10,000 had viewed the bell, the Philadelphia escort party were kept almost constantly busy.

STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE.

Mitchell, S. D., July 15.—A wind storm swept through this region of South Dakota today and did much property damage. The storm extended over several counties and swept into Iowa. An inch of rain fell within an hour.

FILE AMENDED BILL IN INJUNCTION SUIT

REQUESTS BRADY AND STEVENSON
ANSWER SERIES OF QUESTIONS

Three Deficiency Measures Not Listed in Original Bill Against State Treasurer Russell Are Named—Charges Purchase of Personal Property for Members of Assembly.

Springfield, Ill., July 15.—The taxpayers' suit filed against Andrew Russell, state treasurer, in this city last Friday by J. B. Ferguson, is amended in a bill filed today by Fayette S. Munro, attorney for Mr. Ferguson, to include as defendants Lewis G. Stevenson, secretary of state, and James J. Brady, state auditor.

Requests Answer from Officials.

The amended bill seeks to enjoin the payment of $558,802 provided for by the last legislature in deficiency bills, passage of which it is charged was contrary to the constitution, and, in the event that this contention is upheld, asks that any of the defendants who may have made payments on authority of these appropriations be compelled to make restitution. In addition the bill requests that Brady and Stevenson answer a series of interrogatories dealing with the appropriations.

Three deficiency bills not listed in the original bill which attacks the validity of $1,800,000 in appropriations are named in the amended bill as follows:

Senate bill 3—Incidental expenses general assembly $10,000.

Senate bill 4—Salaries of employees, $75,000.

Senate bill 5—Incidental expenses secretary of state, 49th general assembly, $15,000.

As to the appropriation for the incidentals of the department of state the amended bill recites:

Charges Illegal Appropriation.

"Your orator further represents and charges that Senate Bill No. 5 appropriates money to the secretary of state for the incidental expenses of the 49th General Assembly; that there had previously been appropriated, pursuant to law, by the 48th General Assembly, funds for the expenses of the 49th General Assembly; that the real purpose of the said appropriation was to secure for the members of the General Assembly additional benefits and perquisites and extra perquisites for the secretary of state; that said Senate Bill No. 5 duly passed the senate and house and was approved by the governor; that the secretary of state thereupon proceeded to purchase at a large expense jackknives, pocket books, fountain pens, brushes, combs and other toilet articles, and to distribute the same among the members of the 49th General Assembly."

This, the bill alleges, was unconstitutional and illegal because the constitution and laws of the state provide that members of the assembly shall receive "$50 per session in full of postage, stationery, newspapers and all other incidental expense and perquisites." The amended bill continues:

"That the purchase by the secretary of state of the said articles was in direct violation of the constitution, was illegal and void, and that in consequence the secretary of state, the auditor of public accounts and the state treasurer should make restitution for said $15,000 and return the same to the treasury of the state of Illinois."

Attack House Bill 975.
House Bill 975, making a number of deficiency appropriations, all but one of which were for sums under $1,000, is attacked on the ground that it is a deficiency measure.

Among the items allowed for in it are legal services of Charles E. Pope, for deficiencies in appropriations to dental board, the board of architects, the state board of pharmacy and traveling expenses of Thomas Curran. It is further alleged that certain appropriations in the act of July 3, 1913 for the expenses of the election committee of the 48th General Assembly, totaling $4,742, which were voted by the governor at that time, were, with two minor exceptions, reinstated by House Bill 975. On the last day of the last session it is further charged that appropriations aggregating $3,017 were added to this bill. Among the items said to have been added was one for $350 to William M. Brown for expenses in an election contest. It is also to be connected with Brown was defeated in an election contest in 1912 and that at that time the senate allowed H. M. Bacon, Brown's attorney, $520 for fees and expenses. He intimated that the 1912 appropriation was paid and that Brown had no claim against the state.

A somewhat similar allegation is made in the case of Daniel D. Donahue whose seat was contested in the 48th General Assembly. The legislature in 1913, the bill says, awarded Hennebery $1,250 for the expenses of his contest, and gave his attorneys, including Donahue, $500 fees and expenses. For this reason the Ferguson bill takes exception to an item of $333 to "Daniel D. Donahue, expenses and services, election contest, 48th General Assembly."

JUSTICE DISMISSES BEDFORD MURDER CASE

ACTION OCCASIONS ENTHUSIASTIC
OUTBURST FROM CROWD

Attorney General Acquiesces in Motion of Defense to Dismiss—
State's Barring of Decker's
Testimony Blocked Procedure.

Bedford, Ia., July 15.—The case against Bates Huntsman, who has been on preliminary trial before Justice M. A. Sawyer for the alleged murder of Nathaniel Smith, a Missouri cattleman, and his son, in September, 1878, was dismissed today by Justice Sawyer.

Attorney General Acquiesces.

The action was taken upon the motion of the attorneys for Huntsman shortly before noon. Attorney General Cosson, representing his department, acquiesced in the motion, stating to the court that the refusal to admit the evidence of John Decker, a witness with reference to "Doc" E. A. Goldway, the hermit druggist who is said to have been a participant in the alleged crime, had made it impossible for the state to proceed further. The officers in the court room had considerable difficulty in restoring order, so enthusiastic were the neighbors of the aged defendant, who had gathered to witness the final scenes of the court drama which has aroused intense interest.

Finally Judge Sawyer succeeded in getting the room quiet and then said that the cases against all four defendants would stand dismissed.

Turns Into Reception Scene.

This second announcement was a signal for another outburst as the crowd closed in around the late defendants. Huntsman and Samuel Scrivner stood with tears in their eyes as they received the congratulations of their friends. The courtroom turned into a reception scene in which the defendants were the chief figures, with the witnesses for and against them mingling with the spectators in what appeared to be a jollification meeting.

VILLA FORCES RUTED.

Douglas, Ariz., July 15.—Villa forces under General Trujillo, were completely routed near Cabullona, early today by 3,000 Carranza troops which left Aguas Prieta secretly last night, according to an official report of Colonel Max Joffre, chief of staff for General Calles, Carranza commander in Sonora.

Senate Bill No. 4 is attacked as being in excess of the appropriation made by the 48th General Assembly. No. 3 is similarly objected to.

Questions Asked Stevenson.
Among the interrogatories which the bill asks that Stevenson be required to answer are:

"State the name and the annual salary paid to all policemen and watchmen employed by you as Secretary of state."

"State the amount of money paid by you for knives, combs, brushes, fountain pens, toilet articles, pocket books and other personal property delivered to the members of the 49th General Assembly and itemize the same."

"State the total amount of telephone charges incurred by members of the 49th General Assembly through your office; itemize the same showing the individual names of the representatives or senators who secured this service and the amounts for each."

"In your Deficiency Bill for $12,825.12, you asked for a deficiency 'for postage, expressage, telegraphing, telephoning, telephone calls and other incidental expenses, $2,600'. Have you made an itemized report of these amounts in a semi-annual statement?"

"If your answer is in the affirmative, will you state what these amounts are?"

"Name the extra automobile clerks for whom you are allowed a deficiency of $3,500 in House Bill 256."

"Had the services of such clerks been performed prior to the passage of said bill?"

Direct Fifty-three Queries at Brady.
Fifty-three interrogatories are directed at Brady, among them the following:

"Have you during your term of office made an audit of the accounts of the office of the Governor of the State?"

"If your answer be in the affirmative, will you specify the items spent by the Governor of the State from his appropriation of $30,000 in 1913, for the purpose of heating, lighting, expenses of public reception, wages and subsistence of employees, stable expense and other incidental expenses of the Executive Mansion?" If your answer be in the affirmative, please specify the items and amounts.

"Was there any residuum of the appropriation over and above the amount expended by the Governor for said purposes?"

"In 1913, there was awarded to the Governor of the State the sum of $16,000 for improvements and repairs of the Executive Mansion. Have you audited the items expended by the Governor for this purpose?"

"If your answer be in the affirmative, will you state the items and their amounts?"

Other questions go into similar detail with regard to other appropriations.

Argonne Region Continues to Be the Scene of Hardest Fighting in France

LITTLE CHANGE ON WEST

LONDON, July 15.—Abandoning for the moment their attempt to outflank Warsaw from the south, the Germans, probably under Field Marshal Von Hindenberg, who is reported to have said a few days ago that he would shortly astonish the world, have renewed their attacks on the Polish capital from the north. They have not only captured a large number of prisoners south of Kolno, according to the report issued at Berlin today but have occupied Przasnysz, a fortified town forty miles north of Warsaw which was taken by Von Hindenberg in his great drive from east Prussia last winter, but was retaken by the Russians in their counter offensive. This claim is partly confirmed by the Russian official report issued yesterday which stated that the Russians in face of strong German forces withdrew to their second line of entrenchments. This move on the part of the Germans has taken the military critics completely by surprise. It is generally supposed that General Von Mackensen would, after being strengthened, continue his attack toward the Lublin railway. But as in all their operations, the Germans have done the unexpected.

Von Hindenberg's Second Attempt.

This is the second time Field Marshal Von Hindenberg has tried this. His last effort, while it freed Prussia of the Russians, cost the Germans an immense number of men and nearly involved them in disaster owing to the muddy condition of the ground. However, there are only bad roads or lack of roads to contend with, but it is possible that the Germans have built railways to their northern front as they have done in Central Poland.

In France the Argonne continues to be the scene of the hardest fighting. But of the operations here as elsewhere in the west, the official accounts are as contradictory as ever. At any rate no great movement has been undertaken and no change has occurred in the line that could be recognized on any ordinary map.

Confirm Reports of Success.

Confirmation was received tonight from General Ian Hamilton of the success which the allies were said to have achieved on the Gallipoli peninsula. As anticipated, the progress against the Turks is very slow owing to the strongly fortified positions they hold.

Germany's eagerness to have Roumania to allow the passage of ammunition through that country is taken to mean that the supply is running short in Turkey.

PREDICT TWENTY-SEVEN FOOT STAGE.

Kansas City, Mo., July 15.—On account of heavy rains in northwest Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska during the last few days the Missouri river probably will reach the twenty-seven foot stage tomorrow, according to the announcement tonight of government weather observers. This is the mark reached by the high water several weeks ago. Early tonight the river registered 26 feet.

MOB HANGS NEGRO.

Bunkie, La., July 15.—A mob here tonight hanged Thomas Collins, a negro, accused of wounding a policeman early today. The officer, George Townsend, was shot. It is said, when he tried to arrest the negro.

Lesson Learned From Flood.

The recent high water about East St. Louis has further impressed a lesson learned during previous flood times, but not then heeded to a sufficient degree. A contract was just been let for the construction of about three and a quarter miles of levee. This will cost about $300,000, and the purpose is to protect the low land around East St. Louis from the Mississippi river in flood times. In some of the low land districts the inconvenience and losses occasioned by high water are balanced by the benefit which accrue from the land enriched, but this is not at all true in cities and towns, where the losses from high water have often been enormous without any benefit to offset them.

A Great Safety First Record.

The constant publicity given the good roads movement and the benefit of dragging has accomplished wonders in a few years' time in bettering the condition of the highways of the country. The great amount that has been printed in the papers about the benefit of alfalfa to the farmer has resulted in a greatly increased acreage in this plant.

In very recent years the newspaper campaign waged in the fight against tuberculosis has materially lowered the death rate from this disease. So the "safety first" campaign inaugurated by the railroads just about two years ago has made a great showing in the number of lives saved. A striking example of this is given in a statement recently issued by the Pennsylvania system, showing that during the period of the year ending June 30th that the system carried 180,000,000 passengers and not one was killed in a train accident. These records cover the entire system, including lines east of Pittsburgh, the Long Island railroad; the Cumberland Valley; the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk; the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic; and several other lines. The Pennsylvania system operates 113,000 passenger trains every month. The report goes on to show that on the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie, consisting of the Pennsylvania; the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington; and the West Jersey and Seashore, not one of more than 265,000,000 passengers carried in the past two and-a-half years has been killed in a train accident.

Forces for Defense.

No suggestion of the administration with reference to war defenses seems to have met with such hearty general approval as that of the formation of an advisory board for the navy department. A day or two since Thomas A. Edison announced that he had accepted Secretary Dandell's invitation to be a member of this board, and now Orville Wright and Hudson Maxim, both of whom have accomplished so much in the development of aerial mechanics, have signified their willingness to become members of the proposed civilian advisory board of inventors and technical experts. It is realized that what development there is of the defenses of this country must come, largely by means of the increased efficiency of the submarine and by the securing of an adequate air fleet. Army and navy officers are said to be practically one in the opinion that the United States should have from 1,000 to 1,300 aeroplanes for immediate duty. This, of course, is not possible, but with an advisory board made up of men of the Edison and Wright caliber, there can be no question but that speedy development of an adequate plan for increasing the forces for defense will result.

Threshing has begun throughout Morgan county and if the weather continues favorable a great quantity of grain will be ready for the bin. Some of the farmers who contracted wheat at a certain grade will have to make a compromise as the wet weather has caused the grains to swell and in some cases to sprout. Over in the Murrayville neighborhood, Ben Cade, Everett Pennell, James Cunningham and Edward Osborne were threshing yesterday. Roland Burnett near Waverly is just finishing a piece of wheat which will make 30 bushels to the acre. Farmers in Alexander precinct expect to get in the fields by Saturday. Oats in this vicinity have been ready to cut for several days. Charles Schofield of the Lynnville neighborhood started to thresh yesterday. West Combs is trying out his new threshing outfit.

As to crops near Bluffs, the Bluffs Times says: "Never in the memory of our older citizens have conditions been as they are this year. On the first day of June wheat in this section looked good for 40 bushels to the acre. Corn and other grain looked equally well. Today the farmers would be glad could they be guaranteed 20 bushels per acre of wheat. Hundreds of acres of corn have never been plowed over and conditions could hardly be worse. Thousands of acres of ripe wheat is still standing uncut."

Attorney General's Opinion.

In an opinion written to the town clerk of Bushnell the attorney general indicated that a city is to be put into an adjoining road district and that half of the road tax levied in any such city or town is to be paid over to the city officers for them to expend on the streets and alleys. The attorney general said Section 59 of the Bridge and Road Act contains the following proviso:

"Provided that one-half of the tax required to be levied in section 56 and collected for road and bridge purposes, on the property lying within an incorporated village, town or city in which the streets and alleys are under the care of the corporation, shall be paid over to the treasurer of such village, town or city, to be appropriated to the improvement of roads, streets and bridges, either within or without said village, town or city, and within the township, under the direction of the corporate authorities of such village, town or city."

It will be noted that under the proviso above quoted an incorporated village, town or city, in which the streets and alleys are under the care of the corporation, is entitled to one-half of the tax levied and collected for the construction, maintenance and repair of roads and bridges, levied by highway commissioners under section 56, on property lying with such village, town or city, to be paid to the treasurer thereof; which amount may be appropriated by the village, town or city to the improvement of streets and alleys within the corporate limits, or may be appropriated for the improvement of roads within the township, outside of the village, town or city, under the direction of the corporate authorities of such village, town or city.

Section 6 of the road and bridge act of 1883 contained a proviso similar to the one above quoted, concerning the apportionment of taxes levied by highway commissioners under section 3 and 4 of that act.

Crops and the War.

The most recent estimate on the Kansas wheat crop is that it will exceed 100,000,000 bushels and yet business conditions in the Sunflower state are not satisfactory. The banks are carrying heavier deposits than ever in their history, it is true, but that does not mean business is brisk. On the contrary it gives the opposite indication, for merchants all over the state are not carrying the normal stocks of goods, and instead of having money invested in stocks have it in their bank accounts. Thus the opinion prevails in Kansas that it takes something more than great crops to bring prosperity there, and there is the realization that even in agricultural communities general business conditions are reflected. A year ago the average farmer believed that a continuation of the war in Europe would mean wonderfully high prices for all farm products and general activity in the manufacturing world, but now they believe what their bankers tell them, and that is that there is little chance for better conditions in spite of the big crops so long as the war continues.

Mr. Root Opposes Equal Suffrage.

Elihu Root, former senator from New York and former secretary of state, has the tenacity to be opposed to woman's suffrage. Mr. Root in a letter to James R. Nugent of New Jersey recently made public gives some of the reasons why he is opposed to equal suffrage. He declares that it would be useless to argue the question if suffrage be considered a natural right, but he declares that suffrage is not a natural right and is merely a means of government. He makes it clear that he does not consider woman inferior to man but different from man. Mr. Root's statement is given with his customary force and frankness, but sets at rest any idea that as is considering the possibility of becoming a candidate for republican nomination for the presidency, as he in all probability would not have so openly expressed himself on this question at this time if he had particular political aspirations.

In the closing paragraphs of his letter, Mr. Root says: "In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of men and women both. We all of us see the pettiness of our lives. We all see how poor a thing is the best that we can do. We all at times long to share the fortunes of others, to leave our tiresome round of duty and to engage in their affairs. What others may do seems to us nobler, more important, more conspicuous than the little things of our own lives. It is a great mistake that is a fatal mistake, that these excellent women make when they conceive that the functions of men are superior to theirs, and seek to usurp them. The true government is in the family. The true throne is in the household. The highest exercise of power is that which forms the conscience, influences the will, controls the impulses of men, and there today woman is supreme and woman rules the world."

INSANE SEE PICTURES.

The Moving Pictures which were shown on the first time at the Jacksonville State hospital last night proved quite popular. The machine was purchased by Supt. Hill and a large screen was erected on the lawn. Many people aside from the inmates watched the movies.

NOT PROPERLY FORMED INTO ROAD DISTRICTS

ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVES NEW IDEA OF TICE LAW PROVISION.

Action of County Commission in Designating Jacksonville and South Jacksonville as Road District not Legal—Not Purpose of Law to Take Control of Streets from City Officials.

State's Attorney Robert Tilton was recently in receipt of a letter from Attorney General P. J. Lucey, which makes it clear that in the opinion of the attorney general the action of the Morgan county board in designating Jacksonville and South Jacksonville as separate road districts was in error. It will be remembered that Jacksonville was by resolution of the board made into road district No. 14 and the board of commissioners appointed C. C. Berryman, T. H. Rapp and A. W. Becker, and Carl Weber as clerk of the district.

Subsequently these commissioners held one meeting and C. C. Berryman was chosen chairman. At that meeting, since no funds were available for any work this year, about the only matter considered was the possibility of fixing the levy for next year. It was understood that under the law the commissioners could certify to the county clerk a road tax rate of not more than 61c and it was the intention of the commissioners at some early date to ascertain what would be a fair tax to raise the funds deemed necessary for road work in the new district.

Wrote to Attorney General.

Before taking any further steps it was decided that an opinion as to the authority of the commissioners and the intent of the law should be sought, and accordingly Carl Weber as clerk of the commission asked State's Attorney Tilton to write to the attorney general for information in the matter. In reply the attorney general gave a copy of an opinion rendered to another city in which he held that it was not the intent of the Tice road law that the control of the street and highway work in a city should be turned over to a board of road commissioners. He considers that the action of a board of county commissioners in designating a city as a road district by itself is in conflict with a provision of the road and bridge act which was on the statute books before the adoption of the Tice road law and was not repealed by that law. The same opinion of course applies to South Jacksonville as to Jacksonville, and in that regard the county commissioners had appointed the following: L. O. Barrymore, O. B. Heintz, J. R. Baxter, commissioners; E. E. Beasly clerk.

Board Sought to Observe Law.

The Morgan county board, in view of the opinion of the attorney general, is therefore very likely to rescind the action previously taken by resolution wherein Jacksonville and South Jacksonville were designated as separate road districts. The board was impelled to take the action because of the information received that it was their duty under the law to either designate Jacksonville and South Jacksonville as separate road districts or to make them parts of adjoining districts. A section of the Tice law which indicated that this was their duty had been pointed out to them and as a matter of fact there had been some criticism because the action was not taken in 1914.

The Tice road law is such a voluminous measure and so many of its provisions have never been construed by the courts that it is quite natural that some differences of opinion should arise as to the exact meaning of various provisions. And while the section providing for the formation of cities into separate road districts or making them a part of adjoining districts seems very clear, there was an unreasonable feature about the first provision. In the case of this city for example, the commissioners appointed by the county board would serve until a regular election and it would not seem reasonable that such officials living in the city should be chosen to attend to road work when the municipality under the commission form has a department for that specific purpose. The only effect would have been that a further tax for road work would have been possible and thus a larger fund would have been available for street improvement work.

Conflicts Would Have Come.

It is not likely that even if the designation of the city as a separate road district had been found proper, that the commissioners would have spread anything like the maximum tax possible of 61c. for in the average road district in Morgan county it has been customary to levy from 20 to 30 per cent. A levy of this size would have put a very considerable sum in the hands of the commissioners. With the board as appointed by the commissioners there would probably have been no conflict with city authorities on matter of street and highway improvement, but with passing years and changing officials it is almost certain that conflict would have come.

CONFERENCE WAS HELD AT FRANKLIN

MORGAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLD REGULAR SESSION.

Were Guests of Members of Outing Club of Franklin and Waverly Who Belonged to Society—Dr. David Reid Gives Report of Child's Conference at Chautauqua Last Year.

The regular meeting of the Morgan County Medical Society was held Thursday at the grounds of the Franklin Outing Club. The members were invited by the Outing Club members who belong to the society to be their guests on this occasion and they accepted and found the outing club grounds a delightful place for the meeting. There is excellent fishing and boating at the grounds and members and their families enjoyed these greatly. There were about seventeen members of the society present and with their families and guests they numbered about 45. All of those attending took well-filled baskets and a picnic dinner was served.

The society held its regular meeting on this occasion. The subject was by Dr. David W. Reid, who made a report on the Chautauqua babies of last year. The report was a comprehensive one and was followed by an enthusiastic discussion. Dr. Josephine Milligan and Dr. Carl E. Black led in the discussion. The report was unanimously adopted. Dr. Reid was reappointed chairman of the baby conference committee for the ensuing year. Other members of the committee will soon be named, so that work can be organized for the year. All of the physicians were interested in seeing this part of the work increase its usefulness to every parent in the country. The society also urged upon its members and every physician to have as large an attendance of babies at the Chautauqua this year as possible.

The members present were: Drs. Grace Dewey, Josephine Milligan, T. J. Pitner, G. W. Bradley, Walter L. Frank, George Stacy, D. W. Reid, C. E. Black, E. L. Crouch, C. E. Cole, T. G. McLain, P. C. Thompson, Jacksonville; Drs. W. H. Allen, Paul Allen, N. J. Hughes, Waverly; J. B. Perkins, J. M. Elder, F. H. Metcalf, C. K. Blair, Elmer Beerup, Franklin.

Dr. T. D. Doan, secretary of the Macoupin County Medical Society, was a guest of the Morgan County Society on this occasion. The hosts of the occasion were Drs. J. M. Elder, F. H. Metcalf, and J. B. Perkins of Franklin and Dr. W. W. Allen, Dr. Paul Allyn and Dr. N. J. Hughes of Waverly. They left nothing undone to show the visitors a splendid time and the hospitality was all that could have been desired.

The next meeting will be at the country home of Dr. Carl Black, near Little Indian. Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland, O., will be the guest of honor.

Report of Dr. Reid.

The following was the report read by Dr. David Reid:

As chairman of the Chautauqua Child's Conference, Committee appointed by the Morgan County Medical Society for the Chautauqua held in Jacksonville in August, 1914, I wish to present to this society the following report with comments upon the same:

Prior to the Chautauqua, a registration bureau was opened in the Ayers' Bank building, under the management of Miss Mount and Miss Wyatt. This was open from 3 to 5 each day for a week and mothers were urged to call and register their babies. The baby itself was not brought for registration.

The score cards used were an abridgement of the official score card of the American Medical Association. On one side was indicated the points of information that could be given by the mother, such as residence, sex, age, parentage; whether breast fed, etc. On the other side were the scoring points, to be filled on the day of the examination.

The official score card was not used, for the reason that the child's conference being wholly subsidiary to the Chautauqua, it seemed to the committee unwise to attempt an examination requiring so much time and labor as were called for in the official card.

Every Hour Occupied.

According to the Chautauqua program, every hour was fully occupied, and all examinations, etc. had to be made synchronously with Chautauqua exercises in the big tent. While 57 lusty babies with their attendant vocalizations were being examined in the baby tent, Helen Brown Read was singing to a much larger, but more appreciative audience in the big tent 40 feet away. She did not disturb us, however.

Each mother, at the time of registration, was given a ticket of admission to the Chautauqua for examination day. No admission tickets were given after registration week closed.

In this way the committee secured the registration in advance, of more than 100 children, together with much information regarding each child, thus lessening the work to be done on the day of examination.

As there was about the same number of boys and girls, an arbitrary division was made, and the boys were examined one day and the girls the next.

The management of the Chautauqua generously placed at our disposal for the two days, a large comfortable tent, and gave us every assistance possible. The newspapers gave us all the space we could utilize for notices, etc. We had no difficulty in securing all the help we needed among doctors, dentists and the weather man treated us handsomely.

THRESHING HAS 'BEGUN THROUGHOUT MORGAN COUNTY

One Hundred and Fifty Acres Sold to Edwin Beggs at Fifty Cents a Bushel—Elevators Offered 71 Cents for Old Corn Thursday.

Local elevators were paying 71c for old corn yesterday and could have stretched price another cent on the basis of the Chicago market. Both corn and oats had felt the upward tendency of wheat but not in the same ratio. The only purchase in this vicinity of new corn thus far reported is that by Edwin Beggs of Asaland, who has bought 150 acres of new corn at 50c.

A drive through the country in this vicinity indicates very clearly that the corn crop gives promise of being far ahead of recent years. There are some fields which show the effect of the rainy season in weeds, but it has been possible to plow nearly all fields three times and some of them four. There is a great difference in the height of corn in the fields owing to a few days difference in the time of planting, but with a continuance of present very warm weather both by night and day it will not be very long until this difference is not perceptible.

ILLINOIS TRACTION ENGINEER CONFERS WITH SUPT. MISER

Mr. Martin has also plans prepared for the proposed connection with the Alton on the Vandalla road by which it is proposed to haul the coal to the Jacksonville State hospital.

Another matter which was discussed while Mr. Martin was here was the company's part of the paving in case South Main street is paved.

EVERYTHING MOVING ALONG FOR BIG FRANKLIN HOME-COMING

Different Committees Are at Work and List of Attractions Promises to Be High Class—Hon. W. E. Williams to Be Among the Speakers.

The various committees appointed for the Home Coming at Franklin are busy at work, as will be noted by the following taken from the Franklin Times:

"Plans for the big home coming and barbecue are going along smoothly and every committee is busy at work taking care of its part of the preparations to show the people of this section the best time they will have an opportunity to enjoy this year. Dr. F. H. Metcalf, who is handling the barbecue, has already enlisted several capable assistants, donations are being freely made, and country people are showing a willing hand and heart in helping the event along. The fact that the financial proceeds of the big gathering are to be used for the improvement of the park hitch rack has especially appealed to the farmers who make use of it in muddy weather, and has silenced the knockers who don't care to be put on record as opposing an event designed to improve the village that isn't going to cost them anything.

To Have Ferris Wheel.
"James B. Wright of the concessions committee was in Roodhouse Monday and closed a contract with the Eli Bridge company for one of their 'Big Eli' Ferris wheels and a 40-passenger merry-go-round that is right out of the factory and will be the handsomest carroussel ever seen in Franklin. It has electric lights, a melodeon, operates by gasoline motor power inside the swing, is adorned with hand painted pictures and flashing mirrors and has all kinds of animals to delight the youngsters. Ordinarily the 'Big Eli' wheels are not sent to small towns, but the company had heard of the tremendous success of our home coming last year and felt that a town with the nerve to put that kind of stunt over for four days was entitled to anything they had in the shop and the big wheel and the merry-go-round will both be on hand and running when the big show starts.

The Horse Show.
"J. B. Sears has secured the assistance of George Calhoun and George Boulware in handling the horse show on the final day and these gentlemen are preparing a program of cash prizes that will bring the best horses in miles to Franklin for the wind-up.

"The free acts committee is endeavoring to make a selection from a hundred different acts and will have something to make the people wonder, as well as to compel their smiles and laughter.

"The committee on speakers has been busy and their report indicated that this part of the program will be all that can be desired and include some of the most prominent men in Illinois.

Williams to Speak.
"Hon. William E. Williams of Pittsfield, congressman at large, who last week formally announced his candidacy for governor of Illinois, will be the principal speaker on the closing day. Mr. Williams is a rapid fire talker and this will probably be his first public appearance on the platform since the announcement of his candidacy was made.

Music for Occasion.
"The committee on music has engaged the Waverly band for the three days and they will be here twenty strong, headed by their leader, Prof. Fred W. Blood of Springfield, early in the morning of the first day. The band gave excellent satisfaction at last year's Home-Coming and we feel sure the committee has made no mistake in engaging them again this time. It is hoped that an added feature of their part of the daily program will be songs by the band quartette, composed of Messrs. Carter, Morris, Mitchell and Carter, and an effort will be made to arrange this, as the gentlemen are all vocalists of more than average ability and male quartets are always appreciated by music lovers."

MRS. FERREIRA'S WILL FILED.
The will of Mrs. Mary Ferreira has been filed for probate, bearing date of April 5, 1913, and witnessed by J. Marshall Miller and Manuel J. Souza. E. M. Vasconcellos is the executor of the will. Mrs. Ferreira set aside in the first place $150, which will be handled by John Ferreira, as trustee, and is intended to cover the funeral expenses of Mrs. Sophia DeSilva, a daughter of the testatrix, and who has long been in ill health. The sum of $400 is bequeathed to Mr. and Mrs. John Ferreira to repay them for the care taken of the deceased during her declining years. The executor is instructed to proceed after the payment of these bequests to convert the property, real, personal and mixed into cash, and to make an equal division thereof amongst Mrs. Eliza Ferreira and Mrs. Annie Souza, daughters, and Mrs. Myrtle M. Vieira, a granddaughter of the deceased. In this division a note of $200 on which money was advanced to Henry Souza, husband of one of the daughters, is to be taken into account.

DRIVEWAYS AT NICHOLS PARK ALL RIGHT NOW
Cinders have been hauled into the bed places in the driveways at Nichols park and automobiles may travel where they like on the roads on the north side of the lake. The way to the ball grounds is soft, owing to recent work and rains, and auto drivers will do well to examine the track before trying to use it. The commissioners hope there will be no more trouble of the kind this year or at any other time and deeply regret the recent inconvenience.

RATE PRACTICES PRESENT PROBLEMS

W. N. HAIRGROVE FILES COMPLAINT ABOUT WABASH FARE FROM QUINCY.

Utilities Commission Asked to Rule Whether Practice of Compelling Passengers to Pay Fare Into Hannibal is Lawful—If Night Train Stopped at East Hannibal Quincy Passengers Could Save Goodly Sum—Law Allows Roads Higher Charge for Interstate Fares—Some Instances.

When the conductor on a Wabash train took the tickets of two Jacksonville men returning from a trip to Barry the other night, he remarked: "I left a Jacksonville lawyer at East Hannibal. I told him the train didn't stop there, but he insisted that he would buy a ticket and later on would know the reason the Wabash refused to stop the train at this station." It later developed that William N. Hairgrove was the Jacksonville attorney referred to, and as the result of his action he did not reach Jacksonville until two o'clock on the morning following the incident.

Asked about the matter yesterday, Mr. Hairgrove said that he was not expecting any publicity to be given to it, and that he had no thought of recovering anything from the railroad because of personal inconvenience, but that his purpose was to call attention to a practice of the Wabash which resulted in either inconvenience to the public or an excess fare on business between Jacksonville and Quincy. He took the action referred to in order to have the proper basis of a complaint and he has reported the facts to that body with the expectation that they will investigate the conditions and give the public any relief to which they are entitled.

Two Routings Possible.
The facts are these: If a Jacksonville passenger buys a ticket from this city to Quincy and does not ask to be routed via East Hannibal, the charge for the ticket is $1.95. If the passenger happens to know about the possibility, he can ask the agent for a ticket to Quincy via East Hannibal and the charge will be $1.57 resulting in a saving of 37 cents.

The plan of the purchaser of the $1.57 ticket is to get off the train at East Hannibal and wait there in the station until the train goes to Hannibal and returns. This takes about twenty minutes, and as Mr. Hairgrove said yesterday, he originally followed the plan on his Quincy trips because the train going from East Hannibal across the bridge into Hannibal passes through a tunnel and the same is true on the return trip. Very frequently the windows are open and the coaches become filled with objectionable gas or smoke. There is no time for passengers to leave the train in Hannibal, and it simply means an additional twenty of thirty minutes of unnecessary travel at an additional expense of 37 cents. The train that reaches Jacksonville at 9:45 from Quincy does not stop at East Hannibal, and thus the passengers who come from Quincy to Jacksonville on that train are compelled to buy a ticket, which costs $1.97.

On the night in question Mr. Hairgrove asked the agent at Quincy for a ticket to Jacksonville via East Hannibal, and the agent replied that the train from Hannibal did not stop there and he could not sell such a ticket and he then purchased a ticket from Quincy to East Hannibal. At the latter station he then asked the agent for a ticket from East Hannibal to Jacksonville and was informed by the agent that he could not sell him a ticket at that time as the train did not stop for passengers to Jacksonville. Mr. Hairgrove then waited until the train had passed, and again asked the agent for a ticket from East Hannibal to Jacksonville and the agent sold him one. The purpose of the attorney in taking this action was to prove that the agent had authority to sell tickets from that station.

Following his transaction, Mr. Hairgrove walked over to Hannibal and then came to Jacksonville on the late train, after purchasing a ticket from Hannibal to East Hannibal.

Mr. Hairgrove believes the practice followed by the Wabash unlawfully makes an added expense for the public of about $20 a day.

Inter-State Fare Problems.

The question of interstate fares presents many curious instances. For example, if a Jacksonville traveler is going to Kansas City by way of Hannibal, it is cheaper for him to buy a ticket to Hannibal, Mo., and there get off the train and purchase a ticket to Kansas City than it is to buy a ticket from Jacksonville to Kansas City. The same thing is true over the Alton. The total fare is less if the passenger buys a ticket from Jacksonville to Louisiana, Mo., and then buys another ticket from Louisiana to Kansas City than if the fare was paid in the first place from Jacksonville to Kansas City.

Another instance of the same thing is in making the trip from Jacksonville to St. Louis. The passenger who understands that in Illinois the maximum fare is two cents a mile, but that if the ticket is interstate that the railroad are allowed to charge a rate of two and one-half cents a mile, if he is going

HOGS SELLING WITHIN WIDE RANGE OF PRICES

All Below Top Grade Must Be Purchased by Country Shippers at Liberal Discount or Prices Obtained at Market Will Prove Unsatisfactory.

Hogs are selling within a very wide range of prices on the Chicago market and country operators must use their best judgment in buying stock because of this state of affairs. The Chicago Daily Farmers' and Drovers' Journal of Wednesday has the following comment on the present hog situation:

The quality has fallen off considerably within the past month and this wide range of values was predicted weeks ago. At present the spread is the widest of the season, but indications point to a further widening before the summer ends. There may be a few short periods when the narrowing of the range may occur, but as long as the quality is of the present standard and the outside call for prime light weights continues good, there is little chance of a shorter spread.

The man who raises good to prime stock is now enjoying a satisfactory premium and the country shipper can buy best 160 to 225-pound hogs up near the top without worrying much about how they will sell.

The common and mixed grades have to be purchased at prices which give the shipper a good margin at the market. It is better to buy this class at a reasonable discount at home than pay comparatively near what best lots are worth.

Average prices are sharply lower than high time of the year, while best light grades are selling only 10¢ to 15¢ under the best level attained since late last year. Packers show a disposition to support the market on a $7 basis, but they want good hogs around that price. This is evidenced by the number of common and mixed stock which they have secured the past few days at $6.80 to $6.90.

When prices threatened to reach $8 even the buyers of prime light lots were indifferent, and unless receipts become unusually small most traders expect values to keep well under that figure all summer.

The packers have been remarkably bearish for over a week and today was practically the first time the decline in prices was checked.

Most traders expect light receipts for the next few days and few would be surprised at a slight upturn in values.

PROBATE COURT.

In the estate of Mary Ferreira, the petition for the probate of the will was received and hearing set for August 9.

In the estate of William R. Routt, the petition for the probate of the will was filed and the document was admitted, waiver of notice having also been filed.

In the same estate letters testamentary were ordered to issue to Frank Elliott as executor of the will in accordance with the provisions.

In the estate of Joseph Campbell, the supplementary inventory was approved.

to St. Louis; buys a ticket to East St. Louis and then pays the bridge fare of 25 cents into St. Louis. This results in a saving of about $1 in making the round trip from Jacksonville to St. Louis.

A Jacksonville man, who was going to Parsons, Kan., not long since left Jacksonville on the afternoon train for St. Louis, and as it was running behind the schedule, he did not have time to go into union station, but caught a Kansas bound train at the Washington street station. After taking his seat in the coach, he told the brakeman that he wanted to get off at the first station where there would be time enough allowed for the purchase of a ticket to Parsons. The brakeman, who was a good-natured fellow and evidently more interested in the welfare of the passengers than of the railroad, replied: "You can get off at the next station and buy a ticket, but if you want to go the cheapest way you had better pay your fare on the train to the last station in Missouri before we cross the Kansas line. In this state it is unlawful to charge a passenger any excess fare for not having a ticket, and the rate is two cents a mile, but if you buy a ticket across the line from the city of Parsons the charge will be two and one-half cents a mile." So the traveler, when the conductor came along, paid his fare to Nevada, Mo. There he purchased a ticket to Parsons and the result of this transaction was a legitimate saving to the traveler of about $1.71.

These transactions thus reveal that in Illinois a passenger who does not secure a ticket before getting on the train can be charged three cents a mile as a penalty for failure to purchase a ticket; in Missouri it is unlawful to collect any excess fare from a passenger who has not a ticket. In Illinois the maximum fare is two cents a mile and in Missouri the maximum fare is two cents a mile, yet in either state it is lawful to sell a ticket for a trip which traverses both states at a rate of fare for the Illinois utilities commission has brought to their attention, but in the surface facts as presented it seems that the present time card arrangement is such that the public gets the worst of it on certain trains in the service between Quincy and Jacksonville.

GASOLINE TORCH EXPLODED.

The fire department was called to the plant of the American Pure Water Co. at the corner of North West and West Court streets at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning. A gasoline torch which was being used in the second story of the building occupied by the plant had exploded. When the department arrived the blaze had extinguished the blaze and no damage resulted. Lee Jordan had one of his hands burned but the injury is not serious.

Mrs. O. E. Tondy expected to go to Chicago this morning to select furniture for the "sun parlor" in the hospital of the old folks Odd Fellows' home at Mattoon. The room was donated by Louis B. Hirschheimer of Pittsfield in memory of his father who was a well known member of the order.

Miss Lois Peterson of St. Louis, who has been visiting Miss Clara C. Moore of West State street, returned home Thursday.

TWO MEETINGS AT NORTHMINSTER CHURCH THURSDAY EVENING

Yesterday afternoon there were two very interesting meetings of ladies at Northminster church. First was the mothers' meeting which was well attended and the exercises were impressive. Mrs. J. N. Joaquin led the devotional exercises while the literary part was in charge of Mrs. A. P. Vasconcellos.

The other part of the program was a duet by Mrs. Martha Day and Mrs. Mary Baptist.

Solo—Miss Mary Vieira.
Solo—Miss Esther Spoons.
Reading—Miss Helen DeSilva.
Address—Rev. W. E. Spoons.
This last number was indeed decisive and to the point. Mr. Spoons gave his audience some plain words impressing on them the all important position of a mother who has so much to do in moulding the character of the rising generation. They must be earnest, sincere, wholly unselfish and devoted to their home duties.

Following the mothers' meeting came the July ladies' birthday meeting and this was also very pleasant and profitable. The hostesses were Mrs. Effie Martin, Mrs. Louisa Frank, Mrs. M. G. Fernandes and Mrs. Lillian Sardinia.

OBITUARY.

Whalen.

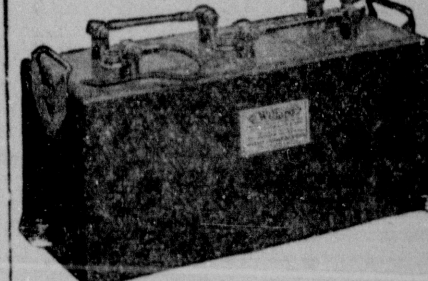

At 9:30 Wednesday evening Jas. S. Whalen, a worthy and respected resident of this city, passed away as stated in yesterday's Journal at O. O. Saviors' hospital, after an illness of three months, during which time he suffered from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Whalen was born in Keokuk, Iowa, November 15, 1856, and was the son of Thomas and Mary Whalen. He received the benefit of public school education while he was young. When he was ten years of age the family moved to St. Patrick, Mo., and lived in that state in St. Patrick and Cahokia until 1872, when the family moved to this state, where Mr. Whalen followed farming in Cass county until 1900, when he retired to this city, and for the last few years has lived at 407 South Clay avenue.

On March 17, 1874, he was married to Miss Alice Ward of Cass county, and with her lived happily until the end of his life. He was survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Mary Margaret, now Mrs. Thos. Casey of Buckhorn. One son, Edward, died in 1901. A daughter of Edward lived with her grandparents, and Mrs. Casey has two children. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Julia Reid of Cahokia, Mo., and Mrs. Lizzie Spurgeon of Keokuk, Iowa. Two brothers are dead, and one, John, survives him.

Mr. Whalen was a member of the Roman Catholic church; also of the Order of Woodmen, the Knights of Columbus and the Bankers' Life Insurance Company. He was a man upright in business affairs, kind in his family, a good neighbor and a worthy man.

The funeral will be conducted at the Church of Our Savior Saturday morning at 8:30 and interment will be in Calvary cemetery. Please omit flowers.

SAIER'S HOMER IN SIXTH CLINCHES GAME FOR CUBS

LAVENDER PROVES EFFECTIVE IN THE PINCHES.

Chicago Twirler Yields Nine Hits, But Strikes Out Ten Men—Boston Defeats Pittsburgh.

New York, July 15.—Saier's timely hitting and Lavender's pitching enabled Chicago to defeat New York. In the sixth inning, with Fisher on, Saier put the Cubs in the lead with a home run. He drove in another run with a single in the eighth. Lavender yielded nine hits, but was effective in the pinches, striking out ten men. Score:

PHILADELPHIANS BUNCH OFF CICOTTE.

Visiting Twirler is Touched for Only Five Scattered Hits—St. Louis Takes Double Bill From Washington.

Chicago, July 15.—Inability to hit Bressler in the pinches cost Chicago the game with Philadelphia. The Athletics had little difficulty bunching their hits off Cicotte. Bressler was touched for only five scattered hits.

"MORNING GLANCES" (By Gosh)

The Cubs took revenge on the Giants yesterday when they beat them on their own grounds by a score of 5 to 2. Saier was the main reason of the Cubs' victory. He got a home run with a man on base in the sixth and in the eighth he drove in another run with a single. Lavender was in fine form and strong in the pinches, striking out ten men.

After being beat 2 to 0 for six innings the Braves got after the Pirates pitches in the seventh and scored three runs winning the game by a score of 3 to 2. Red Smith, the Braves' third baseman, came across with a double in the seventh with two on and scored two runs and later came home himself on Maranville's sacrifice hit and Rudolph's sacrifice fly.

The White Sox lost to Philadelphia yesterday through inability to hit Bressler. Cicotte was easy for the Athletics and they bunched hits in the sixth and ninth innings for four runs.

Wally Schang who made quite a reputation as a catcher in the American a few years ago and who now is considered one of the best receivers in the game is playing a great game at third for the Athletics. He is the only one who seems to be able to come close to plugging the hole left vacant by the absence and two hits in the game against the Sox yesterday. He also had two putouts, two assists and no errors.

Bressler held the Sox to six scattered hits and these were only productive of two runs.

Brooklyn in the Federal league beat Baltimore by a score of 4 to 2 in ten innings. Bluejacket pitched the whole game for Brooklyn but was taken out in the tenth after he had given a base on balls.

The Whales beat the Terriers yesterday by a score of 6 to 5. The Whales hit Davenport, Crandall and Watson for twelve safeties. Miner Brown was hit for eight safeties but he managed to keep them scattered enough for his team to bring home the bacon.

Boston beat Cleveland in the American yesterday. Cleveland presented the game to the Red Sox through loose fielding. The Indians only made one error but their mistakes were errors of omission rather than commission.

Philadelphia still kept the lead in the National by beating St. Louis

TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGED ASSERTION
New York, July 15.—An assertion alleged to have been made by Captain Evers of the Boston Braves during the progress of Tuesday's game, reflecting upon the integrity of organized baseball, is to be investigated by President John K. Tener of the National league. It was announced today from President Tener's office that he would go to Boston tomorrow to investigate the charge.
John A. Heydler, secretary of the league, will accompany him.

WARD CONFIRMS REPORT THAT FEDERALS COLLECTED WAR FUND

Harry Sinclair Is Selected to Carry Out Campaign—Fund Totals a Million Dollars.

New York, July 15.—Vice President R. B. Ward of the Federal league confirmed the report that a war fund of $1,000,000 had been collected at the recent meeting of the league in this city. He said that Harry Sinclair, owner of the Newark club, had been selected to carry out the Federal league campaign because of his aggressiveness and ability to deal with baseball problems. Mr. Ward stated that the money was already in Sinclair's possession and that it would be used in forwarding the interest of the league as a whole. He refused to outline the manner in which the money would be expended, but intimated that the Federal league was about to adopt a more vigorous policy in the baseball world.

The impression appeared to prevail that the league had lost all aggressiveness while awaiting several important decisions, said Mr. Ward, but these cases were to be decided soon and then the Federal league would enter upon a broader plan of action.

It is understood that the removal of President Gilmore's office from Chicago to this city is in line with this policy. Local Federal league officials stated that as soon as Gilmore settled here he would complete the arrangements for the installation of a club in New York.

"Emerson Standard."

Is the World Standard. Ask any user, and take his word for it. Specially constructed cutter bar; no friction on the knife; wide truck, insuring steady, uniform motion and giving lots of room for large horses, gearing or driving mechanism; three motion, gear located, and so placed that any jar or thrust incident to the sudden starting or stopping, is equally distributed, each gear assuming its portion of the strain, thereby avoiding breakage. Further:

Light draft—by the three motion gear, demonstrated in principle by the block and tackle device, giving high speed without undue strain on any portion of the machine. All teeth on the gears made by our special pattern and process. The standard carrying spring, so attached that it increases the traction of wheels by placing all the weight of cutter bar, machine and driver on axle—no neck weight; perfect balance; cutter bar does not drag, but floats over the ground, and there are so many superior points that we delight in showing them.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsed coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsed coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

PEORIA WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. W. L. McClellan, of Peoria, suffered torture from indigestion, gas, belching and other symptoms of stomach trouble. She spent large sums of money for doctors' advice and medicine. Still her condition did not improve. She found relief, wonderful, surprising relief in a drug store window. This is her story, as she tells it.

"I suffered so from indigestion and colicky pains that at times I was completely incapacitated for my household work. I saw a window display of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and decided to purchase a bottle, which I did. I have taken only one bottle and the results have been really wonderful. I have not had a pain in my stomach since, and let me say that for the first time in many, many months, two days following I have had a natural movement of the bowels. I feel I cannot say enough for the remarkable virtues of your remedy."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of the heart, Geyne bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfied factory money will be returned.

Household Chatter

The Making of Pie.
The making of flaky pastry is an art not difficult to acquire. Success lies in the mixing and handling of the dough rather than in the proportions of materials used. Recipes for pastry may differ and produce equally good results. Proper manipulation of the dough is the knack that must be acquired.

A rule to be remembered in pastry making is that only light hands make good pastry. Fine white flour makes the lightest pastry, but this is not necessary except for puff paste. Ordinary household flour can be used.

All flours, with their raising, should be thoroughly sifted and aerated before mixing, butter and lard may be used in equal proportions and pure vegetable butters or fats are excellent. Heavily salted cooking butter should be avoided, as it is likely to have a strong taste. Time and trouble will be saved in the mixing if the fat, when at all hard, is first beaten to a cream.

All pastry should be mixed with very cold water. The board and pin should be floured lightly and the dough rolled out with short, sharp rolls; lift the pin constantly and never go over the edges. Pastry should be handled as little as possible, and the first that is rolled is the best. Bake in a hot oven, so that it may rise quickly; open the oven door only when necessary, and be careful not to bang it when closing.

Here is an English recipe for pastry, with directions for mixing it:

Half a pound of flour, four ounces of butter or other fats, one teaspoonful of baking powder. Sift the flour and baking powder well together and add salt to taste. Cream the butter or fat on a plate and divide it into four parts. Rub one-quarter lightly into the flour. When fine pour a little water into the center, use a knife for mixing and make an elastic dough. Flour the board and pin and roll the paste into a long strip. Put on another portion of the fat in little dashes, sprinkle with flour, cut into three strips and lay one on top of the other, pound with the pin and roll out again. Repeat this performance until the fourth portion of butter is used.

The pastry then is ready for use. Roll it out again, cut it in the desired sizes and bake in a hot oven. Flaky pastry rises in layers, air being folded in at each turn.

This method will produce a delicious, light, flaky pastry if the directions be followed carefully.

The Garbage Bucket.
If the housewife, after buying a new garbage bucket, will paint the inside black and then shellac it she will find that it will last twice as long. It will hold none of the odors and will rinse out very easily, not requiring the scrubbing which is taken to keep the ordinary bucket clean and sanitary. Then, if she will fold a newspaper, opening it first to the fullest extent, in wide pleats from margin to margin, and, opening it again, pull it into a circle, she will have a perfect lining for the bucket, which will insure its emptying clean each time it is emptied.

Washing Summer Dresses.
In washing summer dresses of colored linen it is an excellent plan to get a package of dye and put it into boiling water, making just the shade of the dress (test it first). And as quickly as the dress is washed clean and rinse in salted water to set the color; dip it in the dye and let it stand two minutes. Then put it into the starch and hang it on the line in the shade without wringing and iron while it is still damp.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

REASSURING DEVELOPMENTS ABOUT BLACK RUST LOWER WHEAT
Market Closes Nervous at a Drop of 1/2 to 1 1/2 Cents—Corn and Oats Also Drop.

Chicago, July 15.—Somewhat reassuring developments about the black rust danger in the spring crop did a good deal to cause a setback today in the price of wheat. The market closed nervous 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents under last night. Corn lost 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents; oats finished 1/2 cent off to 3/4 cent, and provisions showed gains of 2 1/2 to 5 cents to 25 cents.

Although black rust reports came from a number of new points in the northwest, traders seemed to be chiefly impressed by the absence of word that any actual damage had yet been done. In this connection a high authority went on record with the opinion that there was no more of the plague this year than usual. Other experts were quoted as declaring that the extent of harm would depend wholly on the weather and that if conditions proved good a destructive wide spread of the rust appeared unlikely. Many holders, therefore, took profits and showed especial vigor in doing so on a rather sharp upturn of the market about midday. Larger offerings of new wheat from Illinois and other soft wheat states gave an advantage at times to the bears, notably in the last hour. There were late assertions, too, that the bulge had been stopped by export sales. No doubt was expressed, however, but that earlier in the session the September and December options had been liberally bought on foreign account. The seaboard sent word of 400,000 bushels sold to France and of 250,000 bushels to Australia.

Corn dragged more or less all day owing to favorable crop news. Hot weather was said to be rapidly forcing growth. In the oats crowd, shorts trying to cover ran up the price of the July delivery.

FORMER SPECULATIVE FAVORITES COME TO FRONT IN FINAL HOUR
Change Is Coincident With Announcement That Standard Oil Company Had Disposed of Various of Its Pipe Lines.

New York, July 15.—For the first four hours of today's session stocks developed a more definite two-sided character in the sense that specialties, chiefly those in the war contract class, manifested greater strength, while railways denoted increased selling pressure. In the final hour this condition underwent a sharp reversal, all the former speculative favorites coming rapidly to the front with gains of 1 to more than 2 points.

The change was coincident with the announcement that the Standard Oil company had disposed of various of its pipe lines to meet the wishes of the interstate commerce commission and the declaration of an increased dividend by the Amalgamated Copper company, which disburse one dollar instead of the usual fifty cents.

There was also an awakening of speculative interest as a result of Germany's explanation of the Nebraska incident, which was

The New Baby is World's Wonder

Every tiny infant makes life's perspective wider and brighter. And whatever there is to enhance its arrival and to ease and comfort the expectant mother should be given attention. Among the real helpful things is an external abdominal application known as "Mother's Friend." There is scarcely a community but what has its enthusiastic admirer of this splendid embrocation. It is so well thought of by women who know that most drug stores throughout the United States carry "Mother's Friend" as one of their staple and reliable remedies. It is applied to the abdominal muscles to relieve the strain on ligaments and tendons. Those who have used it refer to the ease and comfort experienced during the period of expectancy; they particularly refer to the absence of nausea, often so prevalent as a result of the natural expansion. In a little book are described more fully the many reasons why "Mother's Friend" has been a friend indeed to women for more than two generations. This book was prepared not only to aid the inexperienced but to enable so many women to have at hand the timely hints, suggestions and helps in concise and neatly printed form for ready reference. It should be in all homes. "Mother's Friend" may be had of almost any druggist but if you fail to find it, write us direct and also write for book to Bradford Regulator Co., 503 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE

By The Associated Press.)

Tokio, Japan, July 13. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press) — That the Japanese adopt western customs with extraordinary rapidity was strikingly shown in the special session of the Diet just concluded. The way the opposition groups joined forces to "heckle" the government would have satisfied the most practical of politicians in the United States or Europe. The violent disorder which marked the sessions exceeded anything in the American congress and very nearly approached that sometimes manifested in the French chamber of deputies.

The dominating figure of the session was the new speaker, Saburo Shimada, whom many people regard as the Wendell Phillips of Japan, but who is becoming known, also, as the Tom Reed of Japanese parliamentarism—Phillips because of his lofty ideals and high citizenship; Reed because of his powerful personality in the house of representatives. Though of slighter build, there is something of personal resemblance between Reed and Shimada—the passionless face and heavy jaw, while the absolute indifference to parliamentary attack and the czar-like method of making a decision and then sticking to it establish the parliamentary similitude.

The opposition went about harassing the cabinet in a manner which showed the hand of the veteran legislator used to all parliamentary tactics from filibustering downward and upward. When their resolutions condemning the cabinet for absolute failure in the negotiations with China ended in defeat, they combined their attack on Viscount Oura, the home minister, and charged him with taking a bribe of 10,000 yen to help elect a member of the house of representatives. They have previously filed a suit in the courts in which the minister's name was mentioned and thereby furnished a basis for the parliamentary memorial. Viscount Oura denied the accusation and the resolution was lost, but the incident served to bring out some interesting side lights on how Japanese elections are conducted. The money was given, it seems, to a political club, in some cases as "a present to the boys," and in others "for legitimate services rendered." The man who gave the money was elected, but he had been promised that his opponent would be induced to withdraw altogether. But the opponent remained in the contest, and the contributor was dissatisfied.

After that the opposition combined forces in charging the government with interfering unduly in the election and securing the election of its own partisans. They showed their dislike to a firm ruling by Shimada by rushing in a body to the speaker's chair and threatening him. When Shimada ordered the guards to shut and lock the doors, they rushed through the guards and escaped—not to come back. The few who remained refused to vote. The resolution was supported by only three votes.

This did not bring the minority to the end of their program. The last card thrown was a resolution impeaching Speaker Shimada for "incapacity and partiality." Mr. Shimada left his seat, went down to the floor and said: "Gentlemen, what you say is not true"—then calmly returned to his place as presiding officer. This simple speech so enraged the opposition that they ceased their shouts and groans and stared at Mr. Shimada. That was the end and the legislators went home.

The press, on the whole, agrees with the remark of the opposition that the session was characterized by disorder. "The worst since the establishment of parliament," but it does not blame Speaker Shimada so much as the members of the house themselves. Mr. Shimada regrets the noise, but points out that the session accomplished much including the increase of two divisions of the army, the repletion of the navy and other things. "I admit," he said, "that the scenes of disorder have been due to my lack of parliamentary knowledge and experience. I intend to study and next session I shall do better. I hope the better elements will triumph; and next time we shall have peace."

Russo-Armenian Camp, near Bashkala, Kuristan, May 24. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press) — For a perfect epitome of conditions in this region it is necessary to step only a few yards from Bashkala on the Chukh road, to the hamlet of Heresan. There today The Associated Press correspondent found sixty Armenian men, all that are known to remain alive and free in a population of 500,—not a single woman or child but what had been killed or carried away by the Turks and Kurds.

Half a dozen wells were crammed with the bodies of those who had not been carried away. Sherabeg, a Kurdish chief, began the ravages last fall, killing a score of men and carrying off thousands of head of cattle. Some sixty of the sturdiest of the survivors fled to a monastery about fifteen miles away to procure arms and help, but they could not recapture their village, and had to flee for their lives, leaving the remaining population in the power of the Kurds. The latter camped at Heresan all winter and used the women and children as they chose. Immediately after the defeat of the Turkish troops under Halil Bey, at Dilman, the Kurds foresaw their expulsion and made an end of such of the female and youthful population as they did not take away in slavery.

In Bashkala there is no one living now. But lately it was a flourishing and picturesque Asiatic city with many well-stocked stores and comfortable homes. Many of the houses were two-story structures of brick with tasteful balconies. There was an abundance of good rugs and some European furniture. The population comprised 1500 Armenians, a few Jews and perhaps 3000 Moslems. Of the Armenians, 500 women and children had been carried away and divided between the harem of Hassem Bey and Hashi Bey, Kurdish chiefs. The remainder had perished or fled. The Bashkala Moslems had also paid dearly, for their handsome city was looted, dismantled and burned. There were fires in a dozen places when The Associated Press correspondent visited the city today with a Russian general and his staff. The revenge on the Moslems had been worked in spite of the strict injunctions issued by both the Russian and Armenian leaders. The Armenian volunteers were particularly enraged because the Moslems, and it is said, the Jewish merchants also, betrayed the Armenians, who had been friendly to the Russians on their first advance on Bashkala last year.

It is characteristic of the bitterness between the two races, that 25 Heresan recruits serving in the Turkish army were killed outright in the way of reprisal when news was received of the Turkish defeat at Dilman.

The correspondent has been riding almost daily with General N. of the Russian army or Andranik, the Armenian leader, in pursuit of the illusive Turkish army under Halil Bey. It was disclosed today that at least part of the Turkish forces were in a superb position on the slope of a high mountain, flanked by some still higher. The Russian artillery succeeded in sending the forces to cover, but there was no general engagement. There has been warm cross-firing between outposts, and on May 20 the Armenians succeeded in driving the Kurds from some of their mountain strongholds behind Bashkala and from the eastern side of the pass of Chukh. It yet remains to be seen whether the Turkish forces, which were shelled today, are of full strength or are of full strength.

One thing which impresses an American visitor in this region is the excellence of the grain fields of the upland plains. As good as they are in some places, the country would gain enormously from the application of American irrigation methods and modern agricultural work. Whatever may be the issue of the war, it seems quite possible that this will come to pass, for all Armenians look upon America as their school-master.

Copenhagen, July 13.—Statistics recently issued show that 2,600 fewer persons immigrated from Denmark in the year 1914 than in 1913. Of the total of 6,203, 5,123 went to the United States.

Berlin, July 13.—Women, who have gradually replaced men on the German railroads as ticket choppers at the stations, as guards, etc., are now being installed by the management of the Rhomburg Railroad as section hands.

The Bromberg management has jurisdiction clear to the limits of Greater Berlin, and has put in women along the greater part of its line. In some cases women also are acting as station masters. They receive 2.80 marks (70 cents) daily.

London, July 13.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press) — The Lancet asks if the time is approaching when, owing to the high developments of chemical and physical science, warfare will become practically impossible?

It is suggested that explosives may possibly be rendered useless when invisible means are found to fire them from great distances. "As might well prove to be the case in these days of wireless waves or radiations and projections." The Lancet remarks that it would be a remarkable outcome of scientific discovery if the new weapons by their precision, should automatically extinguish themselves. If armaments should thus defeat its own ends, arbitration should at length succeed, the paper believes.

On the employment of poisonous gasses, the Lancet remarks: "Glib references are made to the possible use of potent poisons, arsenical gasses, prussic acid, or some other death-dealing substance which shall improve upon chlorine compound adopted by the enemy. It is well to remember that there is evidence that the enemy has seriously and systematically studied this question for some time and we may be fairly certain that the gas used was decided upon after considerable trials as the most available and practicable for the ghastly ends in view. At all events, such other deadly materials as may be available are as much in the enemy's hands as in ours, and neither side would be likely to gain any permanent benefit by such machinations. We must not dismiss as impracticable the wilder dreams of the chemical poisoner, for in chemistry it would seem that no sooner is a suggestion dismissed as foolish than it at once appears in the form of an accomplished fact; but we lean to the belief that the capacities of gas poisoning have been exhibited to the full."

London, July 13.—The London municipal school where girls may learn in six weeks to become grocers' clerks, has been successfully launched in the western part of the city, with a class of thirty. The girls will be trained in all the routine work of assistants in grocery and provision stores. Tuition is free, and pupils unable to support themselves during the six weeks' course are granted $3 a week from the Prince of Wales Fund.

BOOTLEGGERS SENTENCED Arch Jackson, colored, was arrested by Deputy J. E. Stice Thursday on the charge of bootlegging. Jackson's arrest comes as a sequel to the arrest of Sallie Jones Rice a few days ago. It is understood that Jackson was the informant in the Rice case and at the time the officers did not suspect him of violating the law.

Jackson was taken before Judge William E. Thomson and pleaded guilty and was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to the county jail for a period of sixty days. Jackson is not flush with funds and probably will have to lay out his fine. If he does he should be able to get out in time to celebrate Christmas.

CONFERENCE WAS HELD

AT FRANKLIN

March 57
First child of mother 57
Other than first child 59
Breast fed 102
Bottle fed 14
Breast fed scored 90 or over 97
Breast fed scored less than 90 5
Bottle fed scored 90 or over 10
Bottle fed scored less than 90 4

Comments on the above:
Your committee succeeded in rounding up a large number of fine healthy babies, happy mothers and interested friends. Healthy babies were certainly at a premium in Jacksonville last August. But the under-fed baby; the sickly baby; the bottle-fed baby that tried every kind of food, but thrived on none; that nursed from three to five times in the night—in short, the baby that most needed a physician's care and supervision, was, as a rule, conspicuous by its absence.

Almost exactly half the babies were first-born children. Showing, perhaps, the greater interest, perhaps, also the greater leisure of the mother with her first-born.

Babies Above Average.
The proportion of breast-fed babies—402 out of 116—far exceeds that found in this community; which means that most of the bottle-fed babies were not presented for examination. Also, the very few that were registered were in most instances far above the average of their class, so that no valuable conclusions could be drawn from the comparison. Of the total 116 children examined only 9 scored below 90. This shows that the children were what insurance men would call selected risks, far above the average of the same number of that age taken at random in the community.

Your committee presents as part of this report, the original score cards, 116 in number, and 105 photographs taken in the tent as part of the examination. A few of the negatives were spoiled by movement of the child, or otherwise.

Some of the mothers were disappointed in not receiving photographs but this was no part of the plan of the committee. The photographs were taken without cost to the management, and are presented with the compliments of the photographer, Robert Reid, and with the score cards are to be kept in the medical library as part of the record of the children examined.

Duplicate score cards were sent immediately to the mothers of the children.

Committee Recommendations.
Your committee recommends that the work of the Chautauqua Child's Conference be continued and enlarged. That as far as possible the official score card of the American Medical Association be used, and that a more decided effort be made to secure, perhaps through the co-operation of physicians and social workers, more of the poorly nourished, bottle-fed babies. This does not necessarily mean babies from the poorer families, as many of the healthiest babies are in poor homes and vice versa.

This committee in its relation to the Chautauqua program committee would strongly recommend the expediency of having a place on the program for an address by some competent child-worker and that the question of holding the examinations in the forenoon, when it is cooler, and the child fresher, be at least considered.

WITH THE SICK.

Mrs. Howard Smith, 834 North Church street, is ill.

The condition of Ray Hartman, suffering from typhoid fever, was not reassuring yesterday.

Mrs. C. C. Carter is reported ill with an attack of acute indigestion at her home on South Main street.

A large crowd heard the program last night in Central Park by Jeffries Concert band, many coming from a distance in automobiles. It was the intention of the management to have chairs ready but it was found impossible. This feature will be ready by the next concert. The chairs will be rented for five cents each, enough to pay the man for handling them and the remainder will go to the band.

FIVE HAVE ASKED TO TAKE THEIR NAMES FROM PETITION

City Clerk Has Received Written Notice from Several Voters that They do not Desire Election of Change of Government Plan.

The hot weather of the last few days has not been very conducive to interest in the petitions which are being circulated asking for an election upon the question of a return to the aldermanic form of government. While the exact facts are not at hand, it is understood that the total of signatures has not grown much since the 1,100 mark was reached. Those behind the movement, however, claim that this is not due to a lack of interest on the part of the public but rather to the fact that the petitions have not been actively circulated. There have been a number of people who have asked about the proper method to be followed in event they wished to remove their name from the petition, and thus far five have taken the action necessary in accordance with the terms of the commission form of government act. The five persons who have written to City Clerk Pyatt asking him to remove their names from the petition when it has been filed are C. C. Schusterman, George Paxton, Ira Boston, Joseph L. Pine and Anthony Hamilton. As previously mentioned, the method necessary to remove a name from the petition is to file a written request with the city clerk before the petition is filed. Such a letter sent to the city clerk after the filing of the petition will have no effect under the law.

SUPT. JOHN P. WARD MAKES REPORT OF RURAL GRADUATES

Fifty-three Pupils Were Successful in Passing the Examinations in Scott County Schools.

John P. Ward, superintendent of Scott county schools, has made a report of the rural school graduates. In part he says:

"At the final examination for the completion of the seventh year's work held at the high school, in Winchester, Saturday April 24th, 1915, a total of one hundred and thirty-six pupils were in attendance and wrote on the questions.

"The general plan of the work of the school year in a few of the classes was a subject of misunderstanding between teacher and superintendent, and for that reason the pupils were not working with all the advantages to be desired for the final test.

"The faulty admission of pedagogic principles was not a factor in the making of the difficulties experienced. The cause was rather due to a lack of system in the study of the subjects falling under leadership misunderstanding.

"Fifty three pupils were successful in the examination of 1915 and received a certificate of graduation from the seventh grade.

"In this list were twenty who had completed the work in the eighth grade in the examination of the year before.

"A common school diploma was awarded to each pupil who made a passing grade in both examinations.

"A list of the common school graduates from the rural schools of Scott county for the school year of 1914-15 is as follows:

OBITUARY.

Amanda Jane Little was born April 26, 1850, on a farm near Exeter, Ill., and departed this life July 9, 1915, at 5:30 o'clock, aged 65 years, 2 months and 13 days.

She was united in marriage to William Bryant Scott Oct. 19, 1871. Four children blessed this union as follows: Luther Dolphus Scott of Griggsville; Eliza Jane Hill of Beardstown; Carrie Bell Barfield, near Naples; Clarence Cordell Scott near Lynville. All these survive with the bereaved children, 17 grandchildren, also one sister, Mrs. Eliza Groce of Winchester, and four brothers, namely, Luther Dolphus Little of Winchester, Newton Little of Merriam, Yancy Little of Winchester and Lafayette Little of Bluffs.

Her entire family was permitted to be at her bedside during her illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Barfield at Naples, Ill.

VISITED BLUFFS LODGE.

There was work in Bluffs lodge No. 846, A. F. & A. M., Wednesday night at which time two candidates were raised to the sublime degree of master mason. After the work a luncheon was served. Those present from neighboring lodges were: C. P. Ross, John Nunes, Asa M. Robinson, Frank Muehlhausen, Ralph Reynolds, Julius G. Strawn, A. C. Metcalf and T. H. Rapp, of Jacksonville; L. L. Mutter and M. B. Nixon of Springfield.

CONDITIONS BAD IN INDIANA.

T. H. Buckthorpe has returned from a trip in Indiana. Mr. Buckthorpe says that conditions are as bad, if not worse in the Hoosier state than they are here. The corn is not nearly so far advanced and most of the fields that he saw were standing in water. Practically all of the bottom land corn is gone. None of their oats have been cut and very little of the wheat. While he was in Indiana the Kankakee river got out of its banks owing to three heavy rains in one day. Mr. Buckthorpe thinks on the whole that Morgan county farmers are luckier than those in other states.

TO VISIT IN WEST.

Lycurgus Goheen will leave this afternoon for a trip in the west. He will go to Kansas City, Colorado Springs, Denver and other points in Colorado. He will be away for three weeks.
